Alfredo Sauce (with Bacon)

From: allene@oti-hsv.com (Beth Allen)

Date: Thu, 19 Aug 93 10:07:20 CDT

serves 4

1 pint half & half
 (or heavy whipping cream for more fattening sauce)
3 tablespoons butter
2 heaping tablespoons flour
2 toes garlic, minced
1/3 cup grated parmesan cheese
1/4 cup coarsly chopped parsley
1/2 pound bacon, cooked, drained and cut into bite-size pieces

In a medium saucepan, melt butter over medium-low heat.
Add garlic and stir-fry for 2 to 3 minutes. Stir in flour until well-blended. Add half & half.

Stir sauce over medium-low heat. Do not allow sauce to boil or stick to bottom of pan. Reduce heat if necessary. Allow sauce to thicken (about 20 minutes), stirring frequently.

When sauce is near desired consistency, add parmesan cheese.
Stir to melt cheese for 2 minutes. Remove sauce from heat. Toss in bacon and parsley.

Serve over cooked pasta.

Alfredo sauce

From: betsey@namaste.cc.columbia.edu (Elizabeth Fike)

Date: 12 Oct 1993 18:18:07 GMT

1/4 cup butter

1 cup Parmesan cheese, grated

1/2 cup heavy cream

* Garlic (I use 2-3 cloves, you don't want too much!)

* Mushrooms (maybe 1/2 - 3/4 cup? I don't measure...)

* = optional

Saute' the mushrooms and garlic in some of the butter, if you're using them. Melt the rest of the butter, and remove from heat. Stir in the cheese and the cream, as well as the mushrooms and garlic if appropriate, and bring it just to a boil over low heat, stirring often.

Toss with warm noodles and serve.

Alfredo Sauce

From: svogl@iastate.edu (Sharon A Vogl)

Date: Wed, 13 Oct 1993 13:25:05 GMT

2 cloves garlic minced
1/2 C Butter (try to use real butter, margarine doesn't work as well)
2 Pints Heavy Whipping Cream
2-3 TBS Corn Starch
Salt to taste

Sautee garlic in butter until golden brown. Add whipping cream and Corn Starch and heat until thickened (do not let it boil)
(HINT: Never dump the corn starch into the sauce, always mix it with a little of the cream-about 1/4 of a cup-before you put it in. Otherwise it will form clumps)

Chef's Alfredo Sauce

From: joseph@inland.com (Roger Joseph)

Date: 18 Oct 93 10:11:39 CST

ALFREDO SAUCE

An adaptation from Chef's Restaurant in Schererville, IN.

Ingredients:

3-5 cloves garlic, minced

1-2 tsp. olive oil

1/4 to 1/2 tsp white pepper

1 or 2 Tbls fresh chopped oregano

1/2 tsp onion powder

1/4 tsp. salt

1/2 pint whipping cream

1/2 cup fresh grated parmasan

enough fettucini noodles for two med. servings

(All amounts are approximate, adjust to personal taste but all ingredients should be fresh for best flavor)

Instructions:

In a very hot saute pan, quickly saute the garlic in a small amount of olive oil. The garlic should be very well browned and have a strong, nutty aroma. Transfer sauted garlic to another skillet large enough to hold all of the fettucini. Over med. heat add pepper, salt, onion powder and fresh oregano to the garlic. Toss together. Add noodles and toss quickly. Now begin to add the heavy cream and cheese, stirring constantly. Be sure pan is not too hot. Add cream and cheese until the desired consistency is reached.

This recipe results in a quite pungent Alfredo type sauce that has a unique flavor.

MARINADE FOR CHICKEN AND PORK
=====

Ingredients:

5 oz	Scotch Bonnet chilis (or other hot chili, like serrano)
2 tblsp	fresh rosemary
2 tblsp	fresh basil
2 tblsp	fresh thyme
2 tblsp	fresh parsley
2 tblsp	mustard seed
1/4 cup	lime juice
2 tblsp	orange juice
2 tsp	salt
2 tblsp	white vinegar

Instructions:

Puree the ingredients in a blender and use for marinade for about 2 lb. of meat:

I marinate the meat overnight if at all possible and grill it over indirect heat.

It's wonderful served with

BANANA CHUTNEY

Ingredients:

1/2 lb	ripe red bananas (can use regular)
6 oz	guava nectar
1	medium red onion, coarsely chopped
1 tblsp	lime juice
2 tblsp	veg. oil
1 tblsp	brown sugar

Instructions:

Saute the onions in the oil until soft. Add the bananas and cook additional 5 minutes. Add guava nectar and brown sugar, and simmer for about 10 minutes. Remove from heat and add lime juice. Can be made and refrigerated the day before. Serve at room temperature.

MARINADE FOR STEAK OR CHICKEN

Ingredients:

1/2 cup olive oil
1/2 cup lime juice
Add garlic, oregano, pepper to taste

Instructions:

Mix together and pour over meat.
Marinate for at least 2 hours (overnight is better).

I prick the meat with a fork to allow the marinade to seep through.
Also, I turn the meat over several times during marinating. Then I cook it on my gas grill. It turns out so tender and juicy.

MARINADE TO TENDERIZE STEAK

Ingredients:

seasoning salt,
lemon pepper,
garlic powder
ca. 1/2 bottle of Italian dressing

Instructions:

I usually use sirloin steak about 1 - 1 1/2 inch thick and put seasoning salt, lemon pepper, garlic powder and then put about 1/2 bottle of Italian dressing in a gallon Ziplock bag and seal for about 4 hours or overnite. The Italian dressing marinates the meat and this is the most tender meat we have ever eaten.

MEXICAN SMOKED CHILI MARINADE
=====

Ingredients:

1 cup fresh orange juice
1/4 cup fresh lime juice
5 canned chipotle chilies, minced plus 1 Tbl sauce
4 cloves of garlic, minced (about 4 teaspoons)
1 tsp freshly grated orange rind
2 tsp dried oregano
1 tsp cumin seeds
2 tblsp wine vinegar (may need more if too thick)
1/2 tsp each salt and freshly ground pepper (or to taste)

Instructions:

Combine the orange juice and lime juice in a small saucepan and boil until reduced to 1/2 cup.

Place reduced juice and remaining ingredients in a blender and puree to a smooth paste. I strongly recommend that you DO NOT take a whiff of this stuff. It is POWERFUL!

Spread paste on the meat to be marinated.

Marinate seafood for 2 hours, poultry for 4 to 6 hours, and meat overnight, turning once or twice.

Makes 1 cup, enough to marinade 1.5 to 2 lbs seafood, poultry or meat. I used turkey legs (very Mexican) and it was great.

Note:

Steven Raichlen recommends using canned chipotle chilies which usually come canned with tomato paste. You can use dried chilies but you'll have to soften them in hot water and use 2 Tbl of tomato paste.

SPICY HOT CARIBBEAN CHICKEN MARINADE

Ingredients:

4 green onions
2 jalapenos (seeded)
1/3 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup honey
2 tblsp veg oil
2 tblsp fresh thyme leaves or 2 tsp dried thyme leaves
1/2 tsp salt
1/4 tsp ground allspice
1/4 tsp nutmeg
6 boneless, skinless chicken breasts

Instructions:

Place all ingredients except chicken in food processor or blender and blend till smooth.

Pour over chicken and marinade for 2-6 hours. No longer than 6 hours.

Grill chicken and brush with marinade.

Note: I used serranos chilies instead of jalapenos.

COLLECTION: Pesto Sauces

From: vigil@esca.com (Luck is the residue of design)

Date: Wed, 20 Oct 1993 13:56:52 -0700

Nuts about Pesto is a newsletter I picked up at Larry's Market during Basil season.

Pistachio Pesto
-- Nuts About Pesto

2 cups fresh basil leaves	1/3 cup shelled raw pistachio
2 large cloves of garlic	kernels
1/4 cup freshly grated Parmesan	1/2 cup olive oil
freshly ground salt and pepper

Combine the basil, garlic, cheese and pistachios in a food processor or blender. Process to mix. With machine running, slowly add olive oil. Season to taste with salt and pepper and process to desire consistency. Let stand for 5 minutes before serving. Serve over pasta or use in any recipe specifying a basil pesto.

Pistachio Pesto

2 cups, packed, fresh basil	1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 cup pistachio nuts	1/4 cup grated Romano cheese
4 cloves garlic, minced	salt and pepper to taste
1 cup olive oil

In a food processor fitted with the steel blade chop the basil, nuts, and garlic together until the basil and nuts are in small pieces. Then, with the processor running, add the oil in a thin stream until you have a fine, green soup. Stir in the cheeses and salt and pepper.

Walnut Pesto

-- Nuts About Pesto

3 cups packed fresh basil	1 to 1 1/2 cups light olive oil
1/2 cup toasted walnuts	3/4 cup Parmesan cheese
2 tsp minced garlic	1 to 1 1/2 tsp salt
1/2 tsp freshly ground pepper

Combine all ingredients except olive oil, cheese, and salt in blender container or bowl of food processor fitted with stainless steel blade. Add half the olive oil, process. Add remaining olive oil as needed to make thick puree. Do not over process. Mixture should not be a smooth paste; tiny pieces of basil should be visible. Add the cheese; process just to blend. If needed, mix in salt.

To serve, toss pesto at room temperature with hot cooked fettuccine, using about 1/4 cup pesto for ever 2 cups cooked pasta.

Macadamia Nut Pesto

-- Bon Appetit, March 1990

1/2 cup olive oil	1/4 cup freshly grated Parmesan
1 small bunch fresh basil, chopped	1/2 tsp salt
1 Tbsp minced garlic	1/4 white pepper
1 cup finely chopped roasted macadamia nuts

Blend 1/4 cup olive oil, basil and garlic in blender. Add the macadamia nuts and Parmesan cheese; blend well. Gradually mix in the remaining 1/2 cup oil. Season with salt and pepper.

*Basil Pesto

1 Cup fresh Basil leaves (Packed)
1 clove of garlic
1/4 Cup of Pinola Nuts (Pine nuts) or Walnuts
1/2 Cup olive oil
1/4 Cup of Parmesan Cheese

In a food processor, or minichopper (I prefer the latter), finely chop basil, garlic, and nuts together. Slowly add oil. Blend. Gradually add cheese until blended.

Toss mixture into hot, cooked pasta and serve immediately.

*Note: I am told that you can make pesto from any fresh herb that you like, just substitute the Basil here for the same amount of another herb. You could use fresh parsley or oregano.

>From time to time, I don't have enough basil in my herb garden to make a cup so I mix the herbs that are there. I once mixed Basil and parsley. Its good, but not as good as straight basil.

Sun dried tomato pesto

From: selenev@cats.ucsc.edu (Selene Vega)
Date: 1 Sep 1993 22:37:31 GMT
Approved: arielle@taronga.com
Lines: 31

This is from Food & Wine magazine some years back in an article on Gifts from Your Kitchen, by Sally Schneider. I made it to give in gift baskets for the Winter holidays.

makes about 5 cups

12 oz. sun-dried tomato halves (about 48 pieces), not packed in oil
6 medium garlic cloves, minced
1/2 cup extra-virgin olive oil
4 teaspoons balsamic vinegar
2 (packed) cups basil or flat-leaf parsley leaves
1 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
1 1/2 teaspoons honey

1. In a large pot, boil 6 cups water. Add tomatoes & reduce heat to low. Cover and simmer until very soft, about 15 minutes. Drain, rinse with warm water and squeeze to remove most of water.

2. Combine tomatoes & garlic in food processor until coarsely chopped, about 1 minute. While machine is running, drizzle in olive oil and vinegar and process for 1 minute. Add basil, pepper & honey & process until completely mixed. Add more balsamic vinegar if desired.

Sun-dried Tomato Pesto

From: Charles Yeomans

Date: 19 Nov 1993 17:32:04 -0500

Having found several recipes by lurking in this group, I now contribute one, taken from "Blue Corn and Chocolate" by Elisabeth Rozin.

1 cup (lightly packed) sun-dried tomatoes (not oil-packed)
4 cloves garlic
1/2 tsp salt
good handful flat-leaf Italian parsley
1/2 cup olive oil
1 Tb. lemon juice

1. Cover the dried tomatoes with hot water and let stand for 15-20 minutes. Drain thoroughly.
2. In a blender or food processor combine the drained tomatoes, garlic, salt and parsley. Process until the mixture is coarsely pureed.
3. Continue to process while adding the olive oil in a slow, steady stream.
4. When all of the olive oil has been incorporated, blend in the lemon juice.

Makes about 1 cup.

Comments:

I find that my Cuisinart doesn't do so well with this amount of stuff, so I typically make a double batch.

With no nuts or cheese, I imagine that this pesto keeps a very long time, though I've never had any long enough to test.

This is a very richly flavored pesto; a little goes a long way.

This pesto can be used to make a nice little appetizer (or quick meal) - take thinly sliced French bread and smear on a bit of this pesto. Top with a sprinkling of Parmesan cheese and broil at 350 degrees for 5-10 minutes.

maybe some ginger
hot sauce (whatever kind you like)

Pot Sticker Dipping Sauce

Colleen Fong, of still-lamented Colleen's Chinese Cuisine in Cambridge, Mass., taught a cooking class during a few January IAP's at MIT. Here is her sauce for "swans" (suan la chow show), which also goes extremely well on potstickers:

2 tablespoons dark soy sauce*
4 tablespoons water
1 teaspoon vinegar (white)
1 tablespoon chopped garlic
1/2 tablespoon minced FRESH ginger
1 teaspoon hot oil or hot oil paste
dash of white pepper

Combine the ingredients.

Make sauce a day ahead of time to allow flavors to blend.

You can mince scallions finely on top of it before using it to dip ravs.

If you want to double the portion, DO NOT ADD additional garlic, ginger, or hot oil.

*Dark soy sauce can be purchased in Chinese grocery stores. Read the label---it contains molasses or sugar. It is darker and less salty than regular soy sauce. If you cannot find any, use regular soy sauce with a little bit of sugar.

To make hot oil, sprinkle a few drops of salt onto 1 teaspoon of ground red (cayenne) pepper (in a heatproof dish like Pyrex!) and set aside. Heat 1 tablesppon of cooking oil in a pan and pour it over the powder. This can also be purchased in Chinese groceries, but it isn't as good as home-made. Store extra hot oil in a clean jar. After it settles, the top layer is called hot oil and the bottom part is called hot oil paste.

Soy sauce and rice wine vinegar in about equal amounts.
To this you can add one or more of the following:

- 1) Chopped scallions (a must)
- 2) Grated fresh ginger (a near-must)
- 3) Crushed garlic (of course)
- 4) Sesame oil (separates out, but worth it)
- 5) Hot pepper oil (same issue, you can sometimes find a product that is both)

as many as you want to deal with put in large, heavy lidded pot add just a bit of water to get the juices going and mayper the juice of one lemon
cover and stew on very low heat, watch to prevent burning, add water as needed, just 1/4 cup at a time
When apples have cooked down, stir to break up, blenderize if you want it smoother,
add sugar and cinnamon to taste, brown sugar is nice.

BBQ SAUCE

Ingredients:

1 16 oz can of no-salt tomato sauce
1 4 oz can of sliced mushrooms (or a double handful of fresh)
2 tblsp honey
generous amount of chopped garlic
1 tsp chili powder
1 tblsp basil
1 tblsp oregano
at least a teaspoon of any other spice you like except black pepper
(it clashes with the chili powder)

Instructions:

Mix well and add to meat before you cook it. It also works really well for baked chicken.

Barbecue Sauce

From: RCOLE@aardvark.ucsf.edu (Renee Cole)

Date: 18 Mar 1995 05:09:36 -0700

This is my grandmother's recipe for barbecue sauce. I love it, which is why I have the recipe. I've never eaten anything close from a bottled variety. It's very hot and tangy, although the "hot" can be toned down according to taste.

Barbecue Sauce

1 qt vinegar
1 64 oz. bottle ketchup
1 cup sugar
2 Tbsp. lemon juice
2 Tbsp. ground red pepper
2 Tbsp. ground black pepper
1 tsp salt

Place all the ingredients in a saucepan. Simmer on low heat until the sauce is as thick as you want it. 2 Tbsp. liquid smoke can also be added during the last 30 minutes or so if desired.

Bordelaise Sauce (good for steak)

From: athreston@copper.microlithics.com

Date: Wed, 22 Sep 1993 14:27:27 MDT

2 T butter
1 shallot, minced
1 clove garlic, minced
1 slice onion
2 slices carrot
1 sprig parsley
6 peppercorns
1 clove
1 bayleaf
2 T flour
1 C beef bouillon
1/4 tsp salt
1/8 tsp pepper
1/3 C burgundy or other hearty red wine
1 T chopped parsley

Saute ingredients 2 through 9 in the butter until the onion is golden. Remove from heat, add the flour and stir until smooth. Return to low heat, stirring constantly, until flour is lightly browned. Remove from heat, stir in the bouillon. Over medium heat, bring to boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat, simmer 10 min, stir occasionally.

Strain sauce, discarding vegetables and herbs. Add salt, pepper, burgundy, chopped parsley. Reheat slowly over low heat prior to serving.

NOTES-This sauce can be made in advance-it keeps well for a few days. It's quite good with a beef fondue, or used as a base for a beef stew. For a stew, just saute some beef cubes, chopped onion, and mushrooms-add to the sauce, juice and all.

Bourbon Sauce

From: arielle@taronga.com (Stephanie da Silva)

Date: Wed, 1 Sep 1993 20:29:03 GMT

Of course you don't have to use bourbon. Substitute any liqueur you like. Or leave out the liquor and double the vanilla.

Bourbon Sauce

1 1/2 cups milk
1/3 cup sugar
4 egg yolks
2 tablespoons bourbon
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

In a medium nonreactive saucepan, combine the milk and sugar. Bring to a boil over moderate heat.

Beat the egg yolks in a small bowl until liquified. When the milk boils, gradually whisk 1/3 of it into the yolks. Return the remaining milk to a boil over low heat and whisk in the yolk mixture. Cook, whisking constantly, until the sauce thickens, 1 to 1 1/2 minutes; do not let boil. Immediately remove from the heat.

Whisk the sauce constantly for 1 minute to cool. Strain through a fine sieve into a bowl and whisk for 30 seconds. Stir in the bourbon and the vanilla. Serve warm.

Cafe Pasqual's Green Chile Sauce

From: garhow@hpbumaa.esr.HP.COM (Garry Howard)

Date: 13 Oct 1993 12:58:33 GMT

Servings: 6

- 1 1/2 lb mild green New Mexico chiles
 - roasted, peeled, seeded and
 - chopped to measure 2 cups
- 3/4 lb hot green New Mexico chiles
 - roasted, peeled, seeded and
 - chopped to measure 1 cup
- 4 c water
- 1/2 white onion
 - medium diced
- 2 ts dried Mexican oregano
- 6 cloves garlic
 - finely minced
- 1 1/2 ts kosher salt
- 2 Tb vegetable oil
- 3 Tb all-purpose flour

From: Cafe Pasqual's Cookbook by Katherine Kagel - ISBN 0-8118-0293-0
Cafe Pasqual's is a popular restaurant in Santa Fe, NM.

This is the sauce we use to dress omelots, huevos motulenos, huevos rancheros, enchiladas, and burritos. Called chile verde, it is the gravy of New Mexico. Gravies are the personal mark of a cook, so please feel free to make this recipe yours with your own additions or deletions.

Green chiles are available fresh, frozen, canned, or dried. If using fresh chiles for this recipe, which are preferred, make a special effort to obtain New Mexico green chiles rather than use the milder, ubiquitous Anaheim variety. If New Mexico green chiles are unavailable, substitute fresh poblano chiles. Poblano chiles are shiny, dark green, and have more of a bell pepper shape than the longer, pointed New Mexico and Anaheim varieties. Fresh chiles need to be roasted, peeled, stemmed, seeded, and chopped before using. Frozen chiles have already been prepared in this manner. If using canned chiles, the least preferable choice, rinse them thoroughly before using. Canned and frozen chile products are specifically labeled by the processor as to whether the chiles are hot, medium-hot, or mild. If using dried green chiles, soak in hot water to cover for 45 minutes to rehydrate them, then drain, seed, and chop.

Place all the ingredients, except the vegetable oil and flour, in a large saucepan over medium heat. Simmer, uncovered, until juice has thickened and is opaque, 20 to 30 minutes. Stir occasionally, taking care the the chiles do not burn or stick to the bottom of the pan.

In a small bowl, whisk together the oil and flour until smooth and well blended, to form the base for a roux. Place in a saucepan over medium-high heat until hot and bubbling. Reduce the heat to low and whisk constantly until the roux is slightly brown and has a nutty flavor. Remove from the heat.

Add 1/2 cup of the green chile mixture to the roux and whisk thoroughly until smooth. Add the roux to the remaining chile mixture and cook over low heat until the sauce thickens and the "flour taste" disappears, about 15 minutes. Adjust to taste with salt.

Remove from the heat, let cool, cover and store in a nonreactive container in the refrigerator until needed. The sauce may be refrigerated for up to 4 days. Check it for sourness if held any longer. The sauce may be frozen for up to 2 months. To heat the sauce for serving, place it in a nonreactive pan over medium-low heat, stirring frequently to prevent scorching.

FABULOUS HOT FUDGE SAUCE

Ingredients:

3/4 cup soft brown sugar
1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa
1 tblsp cornstarch
1/2 cup plus 3 tblsp boiling water
1 tsp vanilla

Instructions:

Place the first 3 ingredients into a 4 cup pyrex measuring cup (or tall sided microwave safe container). Whisk the dry ingredients together until thoroughly mixed and no trace of lumps exists.

Add 1/2 cup + 3 tablespoons boiling water to the dry ingredients and whisk until smooth.

Microwave on HIGH for 4 minutes or until quite thick ,stirring midway. Keep a careful watch on it.It should not overflow but it will boil up quite a lot.

Remove from microwave and stir in vanilla.Serve.

This sauce refrigerates to an even thicker consistency for use as a cold chocolate sauce or as a dip for sliced fruit and can be reheated to serve hot again.

Note:

I recommend using a European-style (non-alkalized) cocoa (not Hershey type) because the flavor of the sauce is better but either will work.

BTW, Cocoa does contain a small amount of fat depending on quality and brand, it is not totally fat free.

From Sallie Y Williams' _Complete Book of Sauces_:

Fra Diavolo (makes about 2 C)

In a large, heavy saucepan over medium heat, heat:
1/3 C olive oil.

Add:
1/2 large green bell pepper, seeded and chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 small onion, minced.
Saute until transparent, about 5-8 minutes.

Lower heat.

Stir in:
2 Tbl chopped fresh parsley.
Simmer 1 minute.

Reduce heat to very low.

Add:
4 large, ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded and chopped
3 Tbl tomato paste
1/4 tsp (or more, to taste) crushed red pepper
salt to taste.
Simmer over very low heat for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally.

Traditionally served with fresh lobster added just before pouring over linguine.
Also good with shrimp, clams, grilled fish, and any pasta.

COLLECTION: Honey-Tint Sauce

From: sharon@comlab.oxford.ac.uk (Sharon Curtis)

Date: Mon, 25 Oct 1993 12:03:19 GMT

HONEY-TINT SAUCE

Ingredients:

- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 tablespoon oil
- 1 tablespoon clear honey
- 3 tablespoons tomato ketchup
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 1 teaspoon smooth French mustard

Method:

Mix all the ingredients together. Do not use a metal container (as the acidic juices will react with the metal); use a glass or plastic container instead.

If left for a while the sauce will separate. No worries, just stir it to mix it in properly again.

This can be used in many many ways. Here are three:

1) As a dip:

Depending on how much dip you want, you may need to double or triple the quantities. Make sure you chop the onion finely.

2) As a marinate for chicken:

MARINATED CHICKEN PIECES

Ingredients:

- 8 chicken wings / 4 chicken thighs (take the skin off if you like)
- 1 quantity of honey-tint sauce

Method:

Make up sauce (in a glass or plastic container) and put the chicken pieces in it and make sure thoroughly coated with the marinade. Leave to marinate for either 1 1/2 hours in the fridge, or for 45 minutes at room temperature. (I often leave it to marinate for several hours in the fridge sometimes if my time schedule prefers it, and it still works out fine).

Preheat the oven to 180 degrees C

Again make sure the chicken pieces are thoroughly coated in the marinade and put the pieces on a wire rack above a roasting pan (just something to catch the drips really). Cook for 45 mins, and during that time take the tray out of the oven a couple of times to baste the chicken pieces with remaining marinade.

Enjoy!!

(Can serve with a green salad if you like, or garnished with chopped spring onions)

Serves: 2 (this recipe is so delicious that you usually want two pieces of chicken)

3) As a sauce for a stir-fry:

STIR-FRY with HONEY-TINT SAUCE

Ingredients:

diced meat (either fresh or defrosted, uncooked)

(could use turkey, chicken, pork, whatever you like) selection of vegetables (either fresh or frozen)

(could use sweetcorn, peppers, mushrooms, beansprouts, bamboo strips, anything that takes your fancy)

1 large onion, coarsely chopped

2 tablespoons oil

2 tablespoons clear honey

6 tablespoons tomato ketchup

4 tablespoons soy sauce

2 teaspoons smooth French mustard

extra ketchup, soy sauce and cornflour to thicken

rice, to serve (follow instructions on the rice packet)

Method:

Start the rice going so that you can have rice with it.

Having diced the meat, chop up the onion and the vegetables into bite-sized pieces. Mix together the honey, ketchup, soy sauce and mustard in a non-metal container.

Now heat the oil in a wok. When hot, add the meat. Keep tossing and turning the meat (Chinese cooking chopsticks and a wooden spatula are very useful for this) until cooked. Next add the onions and keep tossing and turning and then add the vegetables. Keep tossing and turning until the vegetables are cooked (this will take a bit longer if you used some frozen vegetables), and then add the sauce. Keep stirring.

The final step is to get the sauce to the consistency that you want. It may be at the right consistency already, or particularly if you have added frozen veg, then it might be a bit too thin and watery. In this case repeat the cornflour step until you have the right consistency (probably only need to do it once)

Cornflour step: In the bowl you used for mixing the sauce, put a tablespoon of ketchup, a dash of soy sauce and a rounded tablespoon of cornflour. Blend together to form a smooth paste. Add to mixture in wok and stir well, heating until it thickens (it thickens at boiling point)

Serve hot with the rice.

This stir-fry freezes well (not with the rice).

Serves: 4 (well, the quantities of sauce/onion I have given for 4. It is up to you what proportions/weight of veg and meat you use, and whether you like lots of sauce or not too much sauce. Go by visual quantity to see whether you've got the right amount of ingredients.)

This is the best cranberry sauce I have ever had...

- 1-1/2 C sugar
- 1 navel orange
- 1/2 t grated ginger
- 4 C cranberries
- 1/2 C (2 oz.) toasted pecans

Grate the orange peel and add to a pot with the sugar and ginger. Add the juice from the orange into the pot and simmer over medium heat until the sugar is dissolved. Add cranberries and cook until they pop - about 5 minutes. Add pecans and cool sauce.

NPR'S Mama Stamburg's Cranberry Sauce

Date: Fri, 19 Nov 1993 16:34:30 -0600 (CST)

The beloved radio commentator gave her traditional Thanksgiving recipe today - I woke up to it just in time to write it down this year! Some of the Norman Rockwell preciousness flew out of it when her mother conceded that this is originally Craig Clairborne's tome! Anyway...

2 C. raw cranberries
1 small onion, chopped
1/2 C. sugar
3/4 C. sour cream
2 TBS horseradish sauce

Grind together the cranberries and onion. Add the remaining ingredients and mix. Freeze this solid, but a few hours before serving remove from freezer and place in the fridge. Makes about 1 pint.

Plum Sauce

From: larry.moore@hillside.com (Larry Moore)

Date: Thu, 18 Nov 1993 12:40:00 -0500

Last July 27th, kookaburra.Jpl.Nasa.Gov!eer (Elizabeth Roettger) sent me this recipe.

2 heaping spoonfuls plum jam (about 1/4 cup, I think)
1-2 Tbsp soy sauce
1/2 tsp hot chili oil
1 tsp sesame oil
1/4 tsp freshly grated ginger
(1 tsp rice vinegar or sherry)

The plum jam I used was very sweet (compared to the stuff I used to get), so I added more soy sauce and some rice vinegar to cut the sugar. The soy and chili oil are the most important additions.

If the result is too thin, mix (maybe a teaspoon) cornstarch with enough water to make a paste, add that, and then cook the mixture till it bubbles a little. It should thicken upon cooling. (The plum jam will thin out when heated, so it ends up thinner when warm than before you added the cornstarch. Fear not.) You can make it all ahead of time and store in the refrigerator, so there's time to make adjustments.

I was wrong about needing the microwave - now that I think about it, I used a pot on the stove when needed. I didn't need it for the stuff I made last night, but if you're using it on moo shoo or something, make sure it's thick so it doesn't leak out. Good luck! -Elizabeth

From Sunset Mexican Cookbook

Cilantro-Lime Salsa

1 small onion, finely chopped
1 cup chopped fresh cilantro (coriander)
1/2 cup each chopped parsley and salad oil
6 tablespoons lime juice
3 tablespoons distilled white vinegar
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 jalapeno or other small hot chile, stemmed, seeded and minced

Mix onion, cilantro, parsley, oil, lime juice, vinegar, garlic, and chile in a nonmetallic bowl. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

Red Chile Puree

About 9 (3 oz) dried New Mexico or California chiles
2 cups water
1 small onion, cut into chunks
2 cloves garlic

Arrange chiles on a large baking sheet and cook in a 300 oven until chiles smell toasted (about 4 minutes). Let cool slightly. Discard stems and seeds.

In a 3 to 4 quart pan, combine chiles, water, onion and garlic; cover and bring to a boil over high heat. Reduce heat, cover and simmer until chiles are very soft (about 30 minutes). Remove from heat and let cool slightly.

In a blender or food processor, whirl chile mixture until smooth. Rub puree through a fine strainer and discard residue. Makes about 2 cups.

Salsa Fresca

2 cloves garlic
1/2 medium-size onion, quartered
1 or 2 jalapeno or other small hot chiles, stemmed and seeded
1 pound firm ripe tomatoes, seeded and coarsely chopped

2 tablespoons salad oil
juice of 1 lime
salt and pepper (optional)

Using a sharp knife, mince garlic, onion and chiles. Finely chop cilantro and dice tomatoes. Combine in a nonmetallic bowl; then add oil and lime juice. Season to taste with salt and pepper, if deseired.

You can make this in a food processor, for a moister (less chunky) texture.

Smoky Roasted Salsa

3 cloves garlic, peeled
1 medium-size onion, quartered
3 large tomatoes
1 canned chipotle chile in adobo sauce
1/4 cup lime juice
2 tablespoons salad oil
1/4 cup packed fresh cilantr leaves

Place a 10 to 12 inch uncoated frying pan over high heat. Add garlic, onion, and tomatoes. Cook, turning often with tongs, until charred on all sides (about 10 minutes). Remove from pan and let cool. Cut tomatoes in half crosswise and discard seeds.

In a blender or food processor, combine vegetables, chipotle, lime juice, oil and cilantro; whirl to desired consistency. Makes 3 cups.

Mild Chile Sauce

3 1/2 pounds tomatoes, cored and quartered
2 Anaheim chiles, stemmed and seeded
1 large onoin, quartered
1 clove garlic
3/4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1 1/2 cups cider vinegar
3/4 teaspoon each ground cinnamon and cloves
1/2 teaspoon ground ginger

In a large blender or food processor, whirl tomatoes, chiles, onion, and garlic in batches until pureed. Pour into a 4-quart pan and stir in sugar, salt, vinegar, cinnamon, cloves and ginger.

Cook over low heat, stirring often, until thickened and reduced to 1 quart (about 1 1/2 hours). Let cool. Makes 1 quart.

Tomatillo Salsa

1 1/4 pounds tomatillos, husks removed
1/3 cup chopped fresh cilantro
1 jalapeno, serrano or ohte rsmall hot chile, stemmed
3/4 cup chicken broth
1/3 cup lime juice
salt (optional)

Rinse tomatillos; arrange in a single layer on a baking sheet and roast in a 500 oven until slightly singed (about 15 minutes). Let cool. In a blender or food processor, whirl tomatillos with cilantro and chile. Stir in broth and lime juice; season to taste with salt, if desired. Makes 3 cups.

Tropical Fruit Salsa

1 firm-ripe mango, peeled and diced
1 cup each diced fresh pineapple and diced honeydew
1/2 cup diced red bell pepper
1/3 cup seasoned rice wine vinegar
2 tablespoons minced fresh cilantro
1/2 teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes

In a bowl, mix mango, pineapple, honeydew, bell pepper, vinegar, cilantro, and red pepper flakes. Makes 3 1/2 cups.

SOME NOTES ON PEPPERS IN MEXICAN SALSA

Chili:

The original Nahautl word for sweet green peppers was chilli. The Spaniards changed the spelling to chile, and in turn the English and Americans used chili. Although chili was once limited to green pepper, it is now used as a generic title for all peppers, etc. In Mexico, there is endless variety ranging through all degrees of hotness from the sweet chili ancho to the small hot brown chili piquin. Many varieties are canned. Where these are not available, various peppers found in the U.S.A. may be substituted, such as small red Italian peppers; or chili powder, to taste, with a dash of Tabasco sauce for zest.

For chili ancho -- use bell or green peppers

chili poblano -- use bell or green peppers

chili pasilla - use green peppers dried in the sun

chili serrano - use any variety small red or green hot pepper

chili jalapeno -- use any variety small red or green hot pepper

chile verde - use canned green chili peppers (like Ortega brand)

chili mulato - use any hot pepper

Also, tortilla chips can be made at home. An alternative to chips for your salsa-- serve rounds of a good, soft french bread, or sourdough bread, lavishly spread with sour cream and heaped with salsa. Yum!

Making your own tortilla chips:

Cut corn tortillas into pie shaped wedges and fry till they seem crispy, but NOT BROWN, in hot peanut oil in a deep fat fryer or fry pan, a few at a time. Drain on paper towels, lightly sprinkle with salt and place in very low heat oven to keep warm and dry out.

I tried this with a variety of tortillas, whole wheat, flour, blue corn, and got good results and compliments.

Back in the time when I was not so concerned with animal fats in my diet, I used to fry them in bacon fat. They are delicious this way too.

All of these salsa recipes taste better if prepared at least hour ahead of time and refrigerated.

APRICOT SALSA
=====

Ingredients:

- 1/2 red bell pepper, roasted and chopped (see below)
- olive oil
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 1 small tomato, or 2 small roma tomatoes, chopped
- 1 jalapeno pepper, minced finely
- 2 apricots, chopped
- 2 tblsp dark rum
- apple cider

Instructions:

Cut a red bell pepper in half, remove seeds, and roast half of it (brush with olive oil and put under broiler very close to heat until blackened, about 5 minutes). Chop.

Saute onion in about a tablespoon of olive oil until translucent. Add tomato and jalapeno and saute about another 5 minutes, until tomato is cooked. Add cider to cover and apricots and boil down until cider is almost all boiled off. Chopped roasted bell pepper and stir. Add dark rum and flambe. (light and swirl until it goes out). Serve hot over grilled shark, swordfish, shrimp, or marlin.

CHIPOTLE SAUCE

If you have dried chipotles, simply tear them and add them to the chiles when you pour the boiling water over them. If you are using canned chipotles such as chipotles en adobo (a tomato-based sauce that adds a faint sweetness; great for grilling!), just roughly chop the chipotles before adding them to the blender.

This is also a great marinade for strong-flavored fish; in fact, Kim called a few minutes ago to tell me she's making grilled shark coated with salsa roja. We've also made something like this with chipotles, adding olive oil, lime juice and cilantro to make it a kind of vinaigrette, and slathered it on salmon that we then broiled. That was terrific.

By the way, I use salsa roja as a dip for tortilla chips, as a condiment for eggs, as a taco sauce, and as the basis for my current favorite chile colorado. That's a real simple recipe:

Make 1 or 2 recipes of salsa roja, above.

Marinate 1 to 2 pounds of beef (or if you can get it, buffalo meat) in the chile sauce, letting it stand overnight.

The next evening, pour the meat and the sauce into a large saucepan (unless you were clever enough to marinate them in the saucepan, in which case you don't have to wash an extra dish and you can just shove the whole thing onto the stove). Bring the meat and sauce to a boil, then reduce the temperature to a simmer. Cook covered for 20 minutes, then remove the cover and cook to reduce and thicken the sauce, about 30 minutes longer. Serve with fresh tortillas, frijoles negros and platanos fritos.

Ingredients:

1	small onion, finely chopped
1 cup	chopped fresh cilantro (coriander)
1/2 cup	each chopped parsley and salad oil
6 tblsp	lime juice
3 tblsp	distilled white vinegar
2 cloves	garlic, minced
1	jalapeno or other small hot chile, stemmed, seeded and minced

Instructions:

Mix onion, cilantro, parsley, oil, lime juice, vinegar, garlic, and chile in a nonmetallic bowl. Makes 2 1/2 cups.

CLASSIC SALSA

This classic salsa starts with fresh tomatoes, but canned tomatoes can be substituted. Tasting as you go is a must, since the heat of jalapenos varies.

Ingredients:

3 or 4 ripe tomatoes, cored
6 to 10 fresh jalapenos
1/2 tsp chopped garlic, or to taste
salt and freshly ground black pepper, to taste

Instructions:

With a paring knife, cut a small "X" in the bottom of each tomato. Place tomatoes in a large pot of boiling water 10 seconds to loosen skins. Peel and place tomatoes in blender container. Add unseeded jalapenos, garlic, salt, and pepper. Blend to desired consistency. Makes about 3 cups.

FRESH SALSA (CHILE)

If you can use a molcajete, do, otherwise use a blender for waterier salsa.

Ingredients:

1-3 serrano peppers
3-4 tomatillos
2-4 cloves garlic
3-5 tomatoes, fresh or canned.

1/2 cup cilantro salt
juice from one lime or lemon

Instructions:

Toast peppers (put them on a hot skillet, turning them as they blister, until they are evenly blistered). Remove papery outer skin of tomatillos and simmer until they turn from green to yellowish olive green (about 5 minutes).

Mash or blend garlic cloves. Add the peppers and the tomatillos. Add tomatoes. Add cilantro. Add salt and lime or lemon juice to taste.

Variations: add 1/2 onion. Use a blend of hot peppers (jalapanos, thai). If you remove the seeds after toasting the peppers, they won't be as hot. In general, the smaller the chile, the hotter it is.

JACQUIE'S EVERYDAY SALSA

=====

Ingredients:

4 oz tomatillos
2 lb tomatoes
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green onions
1 tblsp minced garlic
1/2 cup canned green chiles
1/2 cup jalapen~o chiles, some seeds removed
2 tsp ground red chile
1/2 tsp ground cumin
1/2 tsp salt
1/2 cup minced cilantro
3 tblsp white wine vinegar

Instructions:

1. Soak tomatillos in warm water and remove dry husks. Dip tomatoes in boiling water for 30 sec. or hold over a gas flame and char. Remove skins and squeeze out seeds. (I ignored this and just opened a large can of stewed tomatoes.)

2. ROUGHLY puree everything.

3. Simmer in an open 2 quart saucepan for 5 minutes to blend flavors and help preserve the salsa. Salsa keeps well. If you want salsa even hotter, just add more jalapenos or keep more seeds. (I didn't have jalapenos, so just added some cayenne and some tabasco to taste. I also found that about a tablespoon of lime juice was nice.)

Obviously not a gourmet recipe. But it turned out very nice, and solves the problem of what to do with the other 90% of the cilantro I buy every week or two.

 [Ann Criswell is the Chronicle's food editor.] This recipe originated with Peter Rosenberg, chef/owner of Delicatexas Food Creations Catering. It was one of the salsas served with a seared snapper dish, but can be used on its own as a dip or salsa. The jicama gives it a fresh crunch.

JICAMA TOMATILLO SALSA

Ingredients:

1 medium jicama, peeled and diced (about 3/4 cup)
 2 pounds tomatillos (Mexican green tomatoes with a papery husk), seeded and diced (about 1 cup)
 3 jalapenos, seeded and finely diced
 1 tsp chopped cilantro
 1 tsp garlic (2 cloves, chopped)
 1 tsp shallots (1 to 2 shallots), chopped juice each of 1 lemon and 1 lime
 salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
 2 ounces peanut oil
 jalapeno vinegar to taste (see note)

Instructions:

Prepare jicama; it can be diced finely or coarsely as desired -- 1/2 inch dice is typical. Place in a large mixing bowl. To prepare tomatillos, cut ends off, remove insides and dice skins. Add to jicama in mixing bowl. Add jalapeno, cilantro, garlic, and shallots. Mix all ingredients and adjust seasoning with lemon and lime juice, salt and pepper. Add peanut oil and toss to coat mixture. Correct spiciness and heat by adding jalapeno vinegar.

Note:

To make jalapeno vinegar, drop scraps and trimmings from 3 jalapenos into 1 cup white vinegar in a non-aluminum pan, bring to a boil, let cool and strain. Let sit until completely cool. Store in refrigerator.

JUEVOS RANCHEROS WITH RED SALSA

Cover the bottom of a frying pan with salsa.

Spread a corn tortilla with refried beans and place on top of salsa, making a little well in the center. Sprinkle a couple of tblsp of grated Jack cheese on top. Break an egg in the well of beans. Gently pour some more salsa on top to cover the egg and beans. Sprinkle top with more cheese. Cover pan and simmer slowly for a few minutes until your egg is done the way you like it. Salt and pepper to taste. Slip onto a plate. Top with some chopped green onion tops and a little fresh cilanto, if you have it.

MANGO-TOMATILLO SALSA - (c) 1993 Andy Perrin

Ingredients:

3 ripe mangoes
 6 large cloves garlic
 4 large ancho chilies (adjust to taste; you can use commercial chili powder if you must)
 15 tomatillos (mexican green, tomato-type vegetables; you can mix or substitute plum tomatoes if necessary; i actually used half and half)
 1 large white onion
 2 limes
 1 bunch fresh cilantro (or parsley)
 vinegar

Instructions:

Roast the Ancho Chilies and the garlic in an oven. Remove the chilies when they are puffed out, and the garlic when it is soft and warm.

Dice the mangoes, tomatillos, tomatoes, and onion and mix them in a large bowl. Add a small amount of vinegar (about 1 tablespoon) and the juice of the two limes.

Puree or smash the cloves of roasted garlic and add them to the mixture.

Crumble the Chilies into the mixture. If you like it hotter, leave the seeds in; if not, take them out.

Wash and add the cilantro and any extra chili powder to taste.

Mix the salsa until it's well-combined. Put it in the refrigerator and let it sit a few hours before serving.

MAX LIPPITT SALSA
=====

Ingredients:

3 16oz cans of whole peeled Tomatoes
1 small can of green chilies (optional)
2 yellow or white onions (chopped)
OR 1 bunch green onions and 1 yellow or white onion (chopped)
3, 6, or 9 jalopenos for mild, medium or hot
1 tblsp Oregano
1 tblsp Garlic Powder
1 Tsp red pepper
1 Tsp crushed red pepper

Instructions:

Put tomatoes, yellow/white onions and jalopenos in food processor and pulse quick just to chop up coarsely OR break up tomatoes by hand and finely chop, with knife, the yellow/white onions and jalopenos.

Chop green onions and green chilies by hand and add to tomatoes.

Add spices to taste.

You can add a little of the jalapeno vinegar to Salsa if it will not be eaten that day, for preservative.

MESA VERDE (GREEN SAUCE)

Fresh green chilies make the best salsa, and frozen ones are sometimes available in supermarkets. If you can't find either, substitute canned Ortega Fire-Roasted green chilies.

Ingredients:

- 1 pound fresh green chilies, diced
- 3 tblsp olive oil
- 1/3 cup diced onion
- 1 tblsp salt
- 1 tsp granulated garlic
- 1 tsp dried leaf oregano
- 2 cups water
- 3 tblsp flour blended with 2 tbsp vegetable oil

Instructions:

To prepare fresh green chilies, roast on a barbecue grill, then peel the skins under running water or by rubbing with a wet towel. Remove stem and seeds before dicing. Place chilies in a food processor fitted with the metal blade and process to puree; set aside.

Place olive oil in a skillet over medium-high heat; add onion and saute until translucent. Add salt and spices and reduce heat to medium. Add the green chili puree, then water. Bring to a slow boil, stirring occasionally.

Add the flour/oil mixture gradually, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens (you may not need to add all of it, depending on the amount of juice in the chilies). Simmer 2 minutes, stirring continually to avoid sticking. Transfer to a covered container and refrigerate. Sever chilled. Makes 1 quart.

=====

Ingredients:

3 1/2 lb tomatoes, cored and quartered
 2 Anaheim chiles, stemmed and seeded
 1 large onion, quartered
 1 clove garlic
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 tblsp salt
 1 1/2 cups cider vinegar
 3/4 tsp each ground cinnamon and cloves
 1/2 tsp ground ginger

Instructions:

In a large blender or food processor, whirl tomatoes, chiles, onion, and garlic in batches until pureed. Pour into a 4-quart pan and stir in sugar, salt, vinegar, cinnamon, cloves and ginger.

Cook over low heat, stirring often, until thickened and reduced to 1 quart (about 1 1/2 hours). Let cool. Makes 1 quart.

MY GRANDMA'S SALSA

=====

Ingredients:

4 16oz cans of Diced Tomatoes (sp?) Fresh are better
 1/4 cup of cooking oil (we use canola, not grandma's) lots of garlic (figure out your own taste - grandma always used too much)
 ca. 4 medium onions (yellow are best, to taste)
 1 bunch of celantro - fresh is best, including stems
 1/2 tsp of salt
 6 freshly roasted anehiem (sp?) peppers - diced

Instructions:

I get a big bowl throw it all together take half of it and put about 6 more chilies in another bowl (this makes this portion hotter) :-). Now I have some hot and some medium. I put it in freezer containers freeze it and it lasts for a while.

The real key to this receipt is the chilies. If you can roast them just before, peel them and then put them in the salsa they taste better. one other thing I usually let the salsa sit around for about a half day to let it ferment. I know grandma would be proud.

QUEMADA SALSA

(Makes about 3 cups)

"Quemada" literally means "burnt" -- and that is what is done to the tomatoes and green onions, giving the salsa a smoky flavor and rich color.

Ingredients:

1 pound tomatoes, cored
1 bunch green onions, trimmed and washed
1/2 bunch fresh cilantro
1 tblsp vegetable oil
3 serrano peppers, stemmed
1 tblsp garlic puree
1 tblsp lime juice
1 tsp salt
1/2 tsp freshly ground white pepper

1/2 tsp ground oregano
1 cup water

Instructions:

Place tomatoes and green onions on a hot mesquite grill (over hot coals, not flames). Pile the cilantro on top, so that it does not touch the grill. Grill the vegetables 10 to 15 minutes, or until the peppers are soft.

Place the vegetable oil in a saute pan over medium-high heat. Add the serranos and saute until the peppers are soft.

Place the serranos, tomatoes, onion, and cilantro in a food processor fitted with the metal blade. Process until coarsely ground. Remove tomato mixture to mixing bowl and stir until ingredients are evenly distributed. In a separate bowl, mix garlic, lime juice, salt, white pepper, oregano, and water until well-blended. RED CHILE PUREE
=====

Ingredients:

About 9 (3 oz) dried New Mexico or California chiles
2 cups water
1 small onion, cut into chunks
2 cloves garlic

Instructions:

Arrange chiles on a large baking sheet and cook in a 300 oven until chiles smell toasted (about 4 minutes). Let cool slightly. Discard stems and seeds.

In a 3 to 4 quart pan, combine chiles, water, onion and garlic; cover and bring to a boil over high heat. Reduce heat, cover and simmer until chiles are very soft (about 30 minutes). Remove from heat and let cool slightly.

In a blender or food processor, whirl chile mixture until smooth. Rub puree through a fine strainer and discard residue. Makes about 2 cups.

This is a recipe for salsa that is very different. I got it from a friend in New Mexico. I don't usually measure ingredients when I make it so use your own judgement.

Take 1 can whole tomatoes and extract the juice into a food processor. I open the can, pour out the juice and then squeeze the tomatoes with my fingers to extract more. Add about 1/4 of a small onion, 2 - 3 cloves of fresh garlic, 2 - 3 canned jalapenos (or more to taste), and 1 tsp of honey to the food processor. Process until smooth. Add the tomatoes and just hit the button on the food processor a couple of times to chop the tomatoes. DO NOT process them. The salsa has a slightly sweet flavor due to the honey combined with the hotness of the jalapenos gives it a unique taste.

(about 3 cups)

Ingredients:

2 lbs (about 10) ripe Italian plum tomatoes (or other ripe tomatoes), seeded, juiced, and cut into 1/4-inch dice.
3 large fresh jalapenos, stemmed
1/3 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup tomato juice
Juice of 1 lime (about 3 tblsp)
1/2 tsp salt
1 cup clean fresh cilantro leaves

Instructions:

In a food processor fitted with a metal blade, combine half the tomatoes, the jalapenos, half the onion, the tomato juice, the lime juice, and salt. Process until smooth and transfer the puree to a bowl.

Stir in remaining tomato and onion. Finely chop the cilantro leaves, stir them into the salsa. Let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes before using.

Tips: Don't puree the cilantro (this will make the salsa brown), and don't make more than 3 to 4 hours in advance, since the freshness is a big part of the taste.

SALSA ROJA

Ingredients:

3 dried New Mexico, pasilla, guajillo, or ancho chiles
3 dried serrano, chile arbol, or Thai bird chiles
3 medium cloves of garlic, separated from the head but skins left on Boiling water
Salt to taste

Instructions:

Heat a large flat griddle or skillet over high heat. Place the chiles on the dry skillet, along with the garlic. Check them every few minutes, looking for brown spots as they toast on the dry griddle; turn both the chiles and the garlic cloves, keeping an eye on the color and more importantly on the aroma. When the scent changes and takes on a toasty, rich character, they're done. Remove them from heat and let them cool for a few seconds.

When cool enough to handle (the peppers cool more quickly than the garlic, which in turn takes longer to cook), pull out the stems, veins, seeds and placentas from the chiles. Tear the skins into medium-sized chunks and place them in a small bowl. Pour boiling water over them just to cover, then place a smaller bowl or saucer over the peppers to keep them immersed in the water. Set your timer for at least 30 minutes before continuing.

After the peppers have had time to soak well, pour the peppers and water into a blender. Peel the skins off the garlic cloves (which should smell sweet, smoky and wonderful in their own right) and drop them into the blender as well. Puree thoroughly. The sauce will be chunky; if appearance is important, you can strain it through a wire strainer to get the larger pieces of the skin out of the mixture. (I begrudge the amount of sauce that clings to the mesh myself...) Taste it; add salt and serve immediately.

Spaghetti Sauce Recipe

From: hadden@wrc.xerox.com (lucy hadden uffa 0128-29e)

Date: Mon, 9 Aug 1993 07:45:05 PDT

2 28-oz. cans of tomatoes (I tend to like diced, but whole, pureed, or any combination work fine)
1 3-oz.(?-the smallest you can find) can tomato paste
1 medium-sized onion
3 or so cloves garlic, or to taste
(optional: a smallish, say 1 x 1/2 inch, chunk of ginger)
1 bay leaf
oregano, thyme, rosemary (dried or fresh) (marjoram, basil are also possible)
oil for sauteeing

Peel and chop the onion, garlic, and, if using it, ginger. Get these as small as you can/have patience for. I use the food processor.

Saute onion and garlic (and ginger) in the oil for a few minutes, until the onion is transparent, but not brown. Add the canned tomatoes, including the juice. Also add the tomato paste, and mix. Add the bay leaf and other herbs. Simmer for at least 1/2 hour, or until the consistency is right; you may need to add a little water.

I don't tend to use measured amounts of herbs, but experience has shown that you don't want to add too much rosemary (a tsp. is probably enough, and a Tbsp. too much), but it does fine with lots of oregano and a goodly amount of thyme.

Also, it keeps really well in the refrigerator and freezes quite successfully.

Enjoy.

COCONUT PECAN SAUCE
(Makes about 2 cups)

Ingredients:

1 can (14 oz) eagle brand sweetened condensed milk
2 large egg yolks, beaten
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup flaked coconut
1/2 cup pecans, chopped
1 tsp vanilla

Instructions:

In a heavy saucepan, combine sweetened condensed milk, egg yolks and butter or margarine. Over medium heat, cook and stir until thickened and bubbly, about 8 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients.

Serve warm over ice cream or cake. refrigerate leftovers.

Reheating Leftovers:

In a small heavy saucepan, combine desired amount of sauce with a small amount of water. Over LOW heat, stir constantly until heated through.

Microwave: In a 1-quart glass measuring cup with a handle, combine sweetened condensed milk, egg yolks, and butter or margarine. Cook on 70 0678:1FAEower (MEDIUM-HIGH) 4 to 5 minutes, stirring after 3 minutes. Proceed as above.

MOCHA WALNUT SAUCE

(Makes about 2-1/4 cups)

Ingredients:

1 tblsp instant coffee (your favorite brand)

1 tblsp water (boiling)

1/2 cup whipping cream

1/2 cup granulated sugar

1/2 cup butter

1 pkg (6 oz) semi-sweet chocolate morsels

2 large egg yolks

3/4 cup walnuts, chopped

Instructions:

In a measuring cup, dissolve coffee in boiling water; set aside.

In a heavy gauge saucepan, combine cream and sugar. Bring just to a boil, stirring constantly, over medium heat. Add butter, chocolate morsels and coffee; stir until smooth. Remove from heat.

In a small bowl, beat egg yolks. Gradually stir in 2 tablespoons of the chocolate mixture; mix well. Return to chocolate mixture in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, for 3 minutes; remove from heat. Stir in walnuts.

Serve warm over ice cream. Cover and store in refrigerator.

Reheating Sauce:

Reheat sauce in top of a double boiler over hot (not boiling) water before using or microwave on high about 1 minute for each 1 cup of sauce.

- Oyster Ketchup
- Lobster Ketchup
- Walnut Ketchup

Apple Ketchup

12 large, firm, tart apples, peeled, quartered and cored
1 cup (1/4 liter) sugar
1 tsp (5 ml) ground white pepper
1 tsp (5 ml) ground cloves
1 tsp (5 ml) dry mustard
2 onions, finely chopped
2 cups (1/2 liter) white vinegar
2 teaspoons (10 ml) ground cinnamon
1 tablespoon (15 ml) salt
1/2 cup (125 ml) freshly grated horseradish

Place the apples in an enameled, tinned or stainless steel pan, cover with water, and cook slowly, without a lid, until the apples are soft and the water has almost completely evaporated, about 30 minutes. Rub the apples through a sieve or a food mill. Add all of the other ingredients; heat to boiling, then reduce heat to low and simmer for an hour. Put in jars and process or place in plastic containers with tight fitting lids and keep refrigerated. Makes about 2 pints (1 liter).

Blackberry Ketchup

Various Ketchups

4 lb (2 kg) ripe blackberries (about 3 1/2 quarts [3 1/2 liters])
2 lb (1 kg) brown sugar
2 cups (1/2 liter) vinegar
2 teaspoons (10 ml) ground cloves
2 teaspoons (10 ml) ground cinnamon
1 teaspoon (5 ml) ground allspice

Cook the blackberries slowly for two hours with the sugar, vinegar, cloves, cinnamon, and allspice. When all is soft, put into jars and cover. Process. Makes about 5 pints (2 1/2 liters).

Lemon Ketchup

6 lemons, peeled
1/3 cup (75 ml) salt
3 tablespoons (45 ml) shallots, finely chopped
1 garlic clove, finely chopped
3 1/2 tablespoons (17 ml) ground mace
1 teaspoon (5 ml) whole cloves, crushed
2 tablespoons (30 ml) ground ginger
1 teaspoon (5 ml) cayenne pepper
2/3 cup (150 ml) freshly grated horseradish
3 1/2 cups (825 ml) white vinegar

Cut off a piece from both ends of each lemon and rub in the salt. Rub the outsides of the lemons with salt. Put them in a jar with the shallots, garlic and spices, reserving a little of the mace and ginger. Add the horseradish.

Boil the vinegar for five minutes with the reserved mace and ginger, and pour this over the lemons. Cover lightly and when cold, close the jar tightly. Refrigerate. Strain after six months, or after 12 months. The strained ketchup should be put into small bottles with new corks. Makes about 2 1/2 pints (1 1/4 liters).

Variation: Pack a few slices of ripe tomato in each jar.

Old-fashioned Tomato Ketchup

33 lb (15 kg) tomatoes, slice (about 15 quarts)
1/2 cup (125 ml) salt
3/4 cup (175 ml) ground black pepper
1/3 cup (75 ml) cinnamon
2 tablespoons (30 ml) ground cloves)
1 tablespoon (15 ml) cayenne pepper
2/3 cup (150 ml) sugar
4 quarts (4 liters) vinegar

Stew the tomatoes in their own juices until soft and rub through a fine sieve. Boil the pulp and juice down to the consistency of apple butter, stirring steadily to prevent burning. Mix the spices and sugar with the vinegar, and add to the tomatoes. Boil up twice, then bottle. Process. Makes about 22 pints (11 liters).

Wild Plum Ketchup

10 lb (4 1/2 kg) plums, stemmed (about 7 1/2 quarts)
10 cups (2 1/2 liters) sugar
1 quart (1 liter) white vinegar
1 teaspoon (5 ml) ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon (2 ml) grated nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon (2 ml) ground cloves

Add the sugar to the plums, and place them in an enameled or stainless-steel pan over medium heat. Cover. After 30 minutes, increase the heat and stir the plum-sugar mixture. Break some of the plums with a wooden spoon.

Continue cooking, stirring the mixture occasionally, so that it does not stick to the pan. In 15 minutes, all of the plums should be cooked through and mashed. Remove from heat and cool.

Mash the mixture with a wooden spoon. Put the mashed pulp through a fine sieve, and continue mashing until all of the liquid and some of the pulp go through. Discard the pits and the skins. There should be about 4 quarts of liquid. Boil the vinegar together with the spices for a few minutes. Add the vinegar-spice mixture to the plum liquid, then boil vigorously, stirring constantly, for 15 minutes, or until the liquid has reduced to 4 quarts again. Pour into bottles or jars. Process. Makes 8 pints (4 liters).

English Ketchup

6 lbs (3 kg) mushrooms, broken into pieces (about 7 1/2 quarts)
1 cup (1/4 liter) salt
2 1/2 cups (625 ml) vinegar
20 salt anchovies
1 teaspoon (5 ml) ground mace
1 teaspoon (5 ml) ground cloves
1 tablespoon (15 ml) pepper
1 slice fresh ginger
1 1/2 cups (375 ml) shallots, sliced

Mix the mushrooms with the salt in a bowl, cover and let them stand for nine days, stirring once or twice a day. Put them into a stoneware crock, cover tightly, and set the crock in a pan of water. Cook over low heat for three hours. Strain the mushrooms through a sieve into a pot, and add the remaining ingredients to the juice -- the proportions given for 5 cups of mushroom liquid. Keeping the pot covered, boil together over low heat until the liquid is areduced by half, then strain it through a jelly bag. Bottle the ketchup and cover. Process. Makes about 2 1/2 pints (1 1/4 liter).

Prince of Wales Ketchup

2 1/2 cups (625 ml) elderberry vinegar

To make the elderberry vinegar, place 2 cups (1/2 liter) of stemmed elderberries in an ovenproof dish. Cover with vinegar. Cook in a 300F (150C) oven for 1 1/2 hours, or until the berries burst. Let the mixture stand overnight, then strain through a jelly bag.

5 salt anchovies

3 tablespoons (45 ml) shallots, thinkly sliced

1 teaspoon (5 ml) whole cloves

1 teaspoon (5 ml) ground mace

1 teaspoon (5 ml) ground ginger

1 teaspoon (5 ml) grated nutmeg

Place all the ingredients in an enameled or stainless-steel pan. Bring to a boil. Simmer gently, until the anchovies are broken up, about 20 minutes. Let cool; strain and bottle. Cork tightly. Refrigerate. Leave for two weeks before opening. the ketchup will keep for about six months. Makes about 1 pint (1/2 liter).

Oyster Ketchup

16 live oysters, shucked, the liquor reserved

2 1/2 cups (625 ml) dry sherry

2 tablespoons (30 ml) salt

1/2 teaspoon (2 ml) ground mace

1/4 teaspoon (1 ml) cayenne pepper

1 tablespoon (15 ml) brandy (optional)

Pound the oysters in a mortar, and add the oyster liquor and the sherry. Bring the mixture to a boil, then add the salt, mace and cayene pepper. Boil up again, skim, then strain through a sieve. Stire in the brandy. Put in jars and cover. The ketchup will keep for 6 weeks, if refrigerated. Makes about 2 1/2 pints (1 1/2 liters).

Variation: Use mussels instead of oysters. A pounded anchovy or two may also be added.

Lobster Ketchup

1 3 lb (1 1/2 kg) female lobster, boiled in water to cover for 10 minutes, drained, body shell cut lengthwise in half, claws cracked with a mallet
6 salt anchovies
1 1/4 cups (300 ml) sherry or Madeira
1 teaspoon (5 ml) cayenne pepper
2/3 cup (150 ml) chili or shallot vinegar
3 1/2 cups (875 ml) shallot wine
black peppercorns

Pick out all the lobster meat and pound the coral (roe) with the anchovy fillets in a mortar. When completely bruised, add the lobster meat; pound and moisten it with the remaining ingredients. Mix well, and put the ketchup into wide-mouthed jars. Put 1 teaspoon (5 ml) peppercorns into each jar. Close tightly. Refrigerated, the ketchup will keep for up to two months.

Notes: Add 4 to 5 tablespoons (60 to 75 ml) of this ketchup to 1 cup (1/4 liter) of melted butter as a sauce for fish dishes. For chili vinegar, use 10 dried hot chilies. Shallot vinegar is made by steeping eight chopped shallots in 2 1/2 cups (625 ml) of wine vinegar for three weeks; shallot wine by steeping the shallots in dry white wine.

Walnut Ketchup

24 green walnuts
3/4 cup (175 ml) salt
5 cups (1 1/4 liter) water
2 quarts (2 liters) vinegar
2 teaspoons (10 ml) ground cloves
2 teaspoons (10 ml) ground mace
12 garlic cloves

Put the walnuts and salt into the water and leave them for nine days. Remove the walnuts from the brine and pound them in a mortar. Combine the walnuts and vinegar and leave them for a week, stirring every day.

Strain the mixture through a muslin bag, squeezing to extract all the liquor. To this add the cloves, mace and garlic; boil for 15 to 20 minutes, strain and then bottle it. Cover and process. Makes about 3 pints (1 1/2 liters).
